

ARMED FORCES PERSONNEL – THE MOTOR INSURANCE COMMITMENT

Motor insurers recognise that those who serve in the armed forces need clear and accurate information. We've put together this information to help members of the armed forces and their families when they are posted abroad on military service.

Please note that these offers apply to UK Armed Forces personnel only.

This information is available for you to print and to distribute, and is intended to help you find the right policy to meet your circumstances.

Please note that this list will be updated on an annual basis. To check that you have the most up-to-date version of this document, please check the ABI website: <https://www.abi.org.uk/Insurance-and-savings/Products/Motor-insurance/Armed-forces>

Please remember that the information listed below applies to your private cars insured on private car insurance policies only. Where you keep your car on your base, you should make sure your insurer or broker is informed. If you use your car for any part of your role in the military, or if you are provided with a vehicle as part of your service, you will need to inform your insurer and ensure that your insurance policy offers the right level of cover. There are specialist armed forces insurance policies that are designed to account for the unique circumstances of armed forces personnel, and you may wish to consider this.

What to do if you are posted abroad on military service

First, check who your insurer is. Sometimes the insurer will be different from the company who sold you your insurance. This information will always be in the policy documentation you were given when you took out your insurance policy.

Check the details on your insurer below, and you will see what offers they have decided to make when members of the armed forces are posted abroad on military service. This lists what each insurer will offer you with regards to your No Claims Bonus at the time you were posted abroad on military service and with regards to any fees they would normally charge to reflect the costs of cancelling a car insurance policy early. It also lists any other information you will need and, where relevant, any contact information you will need.

Insurers will ask you to provide some information to prove that you have been posted abroad. In most cases, a copy of the documentation you will have been sent by your commanding officer confirming your posting will be all that is needed.

Remember that in order to benefit from any of the offers referred to below, you will often need to contact your insurer directly (as Price Comparison Websites and other intermediaries will not allow you to upload documentation).

Other issues to consider – whether you sell or dispose of your vehicle

When you are posted abroad, you will also need to decide whether the vehicle is to be sold/disposed of or whether you want it to remain in your possession. If the vehicle is to remain in your possession but ‘laid up’ and not used on the roads while you are abroad, it is important that DVLA (or DVLANI) are notified and a SORN declaration made. You can find more information on how to make a SORN declaration here or by phoning the DVLA on 0300 123 4321.

If you do not intend to cancel your insurance policy when you are posted abroad, it is important to tell your insurer about any changes to the use of the vehicle, where it is kept (including any use overseas) or a change to the main driver.

The commitment of insurers:

The insurers named below have agreed to allow armed forces personnel and their immediate families additional flexibility when they are posted abroad as part of their military service, provided that they receive appropriate verification demonstrating the location and likely duration of the posting:

	We cater specifically for members of the armed forces, providing policies, both in the UK and abroad. We are also an approved insurer, sitting on the official Forces panel. We already have an array of products available from Markerstudy Group of Companies and are committed to continuing our support of members of the armed forces but will also be extending our cover to include the following initiatives as part of this endeavour: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Allowing forces personnel to maintain their NCD status during their period posted abroad on service (for up to three years).• Waiving any cancellation fees charged to forces personnel or their family if they need to cancel their policy as a result of being posted abroad for military service.
NFU Mutual	NFU Mutual provides motor cover with the majority of our customers being located in rural areas. Our policies exclude cover whilst the vehicle is being used for armed forces and/or law enforcement purposes and because of this such occupations require a higher level of underwriting. Where NFU Mutual is requested to provide motor insurance for a member of the UK Armed Forces on their return from an overseas posting, we will look to provide the most advantageous terms available - this may include the transfer of NCD from a previous insurance held in the past three years, provided the driver has not been involved in any at fault motor accidents during that time. If we provide motor insurance for a member of the UK Armed Forces who is posted abroad and cover for the vehicle is cancelled as a result, we will provide a proportionate refund of any premiums paid at the date the insurance cover is terminated. We will not make any administrative or cancellation charges.

	If the vehicle is not being sold or disposed of and is to remain in your possession but 'laid up' off the road, it is important that DVLA/DVLENI are notified and a SORN declaration made. We can continue to provide cover in this situation. If the vehicle is not being laid up, sold or disposed of and the policy cover is to remain in place, to ensure we can continue to provide valid insurance, it is important to tell us about any changes to the use of the vehicle, where it is kept (including any use overseas) or a change to the main driver.
Premier Underwriting Limited	Will allow forces personnel to maintain their NCD status during their period posted abroad on service (for up to three years). Will not charge a cancellation fee to forces personnel or their family if they need to cancel their policy as a result of being posted abroad for military service. Please note that Premier Underwriting Ltd. only provides insurance arranged by brokers, and they may make an administration charge to cover their costs, as detailed in their terms and conditions.	If forces personnel require more information or need to cancel their policy, they should contact their broker in the usual way, explaining why they have to cancel.
RSA / MORE TH>N	To support our Armed Forces MORE TH>N and RSA are pleased to have signed up to the Armed Forces Covenant. We will ensure that when posted abroad, no Armed Forces' personnel who have our motor or home insurance products are financially disadvantaged. We will support the Covenant by: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Allowing forces' personnel and their immediate family to maintain their No Claims Bonus status during their period posted abroad on service (for up to three years).	When talking to any of our sales and service staff, please mention the Armed Forces Covenant to be certain of benefitting from these additional changes to our normal terms and conditions. You can contact our call centre for a quotation direct on 0330 100 7823 for Motor insurance and 0330 100 7822 for Home insurance.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Waiver any cancellation fees charged to forces' personnel or their family if they need to cancel their policy as a result of being posted abroad for military service. Proof of overseas posting will be required, for example a letter from a Commanding Officer.
U K Insurance – owned by Direct Line Group	Direct Line Group supports the armed forces. We already show our support by allowing armed forces personnel (or their spouse/partner) to cancel their motor policy without charging a fee if they are being re-stationed. We do this even if the member of the Armed Forces is not named on the policy. We currently accept proof of no claim discount (NCD) for up to three years for members of the Armed Forces. This recognises the time period personnel are often posted abroad and therefore unable to benefit from their proof of NCD.	Contact details can be found via the intermediary that sold you the policy.
Zurich (Zurich private motor contracts, either direct or via an intermediary/broker)	Zurich welcomes the opportunity to support full time and reservist members of the UK armed forces and participate in this Motor Insurance Commitment. We will also apply the change on cancellation to our home and travel policies so forces personnel can buy their insurance with confidence. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • No claims discount - Any no claim discount or claim free years you have earned up to your posting abroad remains valid for up to 3 years and will be accepted when taking out new cover on your return. Please retain evidence of the level you have from your last insurance policy as we may ask you to provide this at time of next purchase. • Cancellation - We will waive any cancellation or administration charge applying where a serving member or their family require to cancel their policy due to a posting abroad. 	You can get in touch using the contacts details found in your covering letter to your documentation and please have your proof of posting to hand. In some instances, your intermediary will need to refer to us, so please allow sufficient time for your request to be processed.
